

TLB Music Testimonials

"TLB is by far and away the best class on the Upper East Side! I wish I could take my son everyday because the class keeps him so engaged and happy. I tell all my friends they MUST do TLB! The make up schedule is also unbeatable. The staff is amazing and friendly and knows all the kids by name. Just the happiest environment to bring your child.

Everyone goes ABOVE AND BEYOND!
Bar none the greatest NYC class!"

Petra, TLB Testimonials

"Thank you so very much for a fabulous term. We have absolutely enjoyed coming along to class and learning music with TLB. We have taken a couple of other classes and music class trials around town and beyond compare, TLB is our favorite and the very best we have experienced in NYC! From the exceedingly talented teachers and staff - all of whom seem entirely kind, friendly, super helpful and enthusiastic; the brilliant, mature, and fabulously thought out curriculum; to the phenomenally managed (amazing equipment, unbelievably clean, and amazingly well kept) facility...I'm really grateful I came across TLB ... Please keep doing what you're doing!"

Aimee, TLB Testimonials

"TLB has been awesome. We attended many semesters, and I fortunately had a flexible work schedule so I could attend. I think I enjoyed the classes and hip, popular music of all genres as much, if not more than my daughter. Can't say enough good things about the owners' kindness, warmth, welcoming environment, understanding and flexibility on make ups, scheduling etc. They always knew and greeted my child by name when we showed up (they knew all the kids names). Teachers were fabulous. I sang my heart out excited in every class ... Everything about TLB is awesome & they are a first class act, all the way- a true neighborhood gem."

Michelle, Facebook Review

"What I loved most about our TLB Music session was the intimacy and personalized style of the class - your child gets direct attention due to the small size, and also get customized tunes & face time! How cool is that!! I was equally impressed with the fastidiously well-kept nature of the classrooms. This is the kind of environment where I don't mind little Nukie picking up something and putting it in his mouth because I know that it's been properly sanitized, which is certainly not something one takes for granted in this city! If you have time, I also highly recommend checking out the downstairs TLB playroom, which is MASSIVE (at least via the lens of this city gal). Hubs and I thought that we'd only swing by for 15 minutes tops and wound up playing for an hour! It was well stocked with goodies and toys, and had the added benefit of being extremely chill and relaxed (a major plus in my book!). One thing is for sure - we'll definitely be back."

www.rockshic.com

"These music classes are extraordinary - they are not only perfectly developmentally appropriate, teaching children skills when they are the age to master them and challenging children with learning that is attainable, but they are also a lot of fun for children and parents alike.

The music chosen is contemporary and relevant, the teachers are musically fluent and filled with energy, the experience overall is a joy."

Camilla, Yelp Review

"This is my favorite music class for babies in New York so far. The pop music selection is a bit cooler than other classes-- more Bowie and Beatles, less Taylor Swift, thank god-- and the teachers seem warmer and more sensitive to the individual baby than at other places. If a baby is feeling shy or overstimulated, the teachers won't push him or her too hard... It's a real community and the kids get to try a variety of real instruments. We love going here every week."

Pam, Yelp Review

"My 8 month old son started classes at TLB Music just a few weeks ago and seems to absolutely love it. His instructors are just wonderful - so warm and you can tell they really enjoys what they are doing and take pride in coming up with interesting games. The classroom is incredibly neat and clean & has all sort of instruments to spark interest for the little ones.

The playroom is such a great benefit to the enrollment. I can definitely see my son taking more classes and even lessons here as he gets older. Top notch establishment!"

Jess, Yelp Review

